Our ISO/IEC 17025 accredited microbiological testing enables you to manage your business risk and maintain your brand reputation.

Microbiology testing is essential for quality control, ensuring product quality, plant hygiene, and shelf life, while maintaining consumer confidence and regulatory compliance.

Our IANZ 17025 and MPI-RLP accredited scope encompasses primary production through to finished product for bovine, bobby, caprine, cervine, ovine, ratites and poultry meeting both MPI and OMAR requirements. We also offer an extensive range of water testing for compliance.

We have an extensive suite of tests available for the meat sector, with industry leading turnaround times.
